THE CARSON MINT.

Denver wants a mint established at that city. There is now a Government assay office there, but that does not answer the requirements of the State. Congressmen Bell and Pender of Colorado are enthusiastically in favor of the Denver mint, but there is no probability of its being established unless the Carson mint is dismantled and the plant moved to Colorado. Representative Newlands and Senators Jones and Stewart will oppose the dismantlement of the Carson mint, but the Coloradans hope that a compromise may be effected by providing that only the coinage plant should be removed from Carson, and that the Carson mint be kept open as a refinery and assay office.

The Director of the Mint is said to be in favor of removing the Carson plant to Denver. That cannot be done, however, without an act of Congress authorizing it, and such an act is not likely to be passed at the present session.

This move to dismantle the Carson mint should be an incentive to Carson people; who advocate the success of a party that is opposed to free coinage, to abandon such folly and join the silver party. With free coinage the Carson mint would be running to its full capacity and giving employment to sixty or seventy persons. As an assay office it does not employ more than one-fifth that number, and should it be dismantled, as it probably will be in the near future if silver coinage is not resumed, it will be a severe blow to the capital of Nevada.—Journal.

Lincoln's Prophecy.

The prophecy of President Lincoln, made by him in a private letter to a friend in Illinois, has been frequently quoted, but cannot be to frequently read and pondered over. He said:

"Yes, we may all congratulate ourselves that the cruel war is nearing a close. It has cost a vast amount of treasure and blood. The best blood of the flower of American youth has been freely offered upon our country's altar that the nation might live. It has, indeed, been a trying hour for the republic, but I see in the near future a crisis arising that unnerves me and causes me to tremble for the safety of my country. As a result of the war corporations have been enthroned, an era of corruption in high places will follow, and the money power of the country will endeavor to prolong its reign by working on the prejudices of the people until all wealth is aggregated in few hands and the republic is destroyed. I feel at this moment more anxiety for the safety of my country than ever before, even in the midst of war. God grant that my suspicions may prove groundless."—Chicago Journal.

Coxey's men can cast as legal votes as the millionaires can. Had those who now sympathize with Coxey used their power at the ballot box in times gone by, there would never have been the crime of 1873 or any Coxey's army at this time.—Exchange.

The Lone Highwayman.

Sonora, Cal., May 3.—Last evening at 6 o'clock a lone highwayman held up the Sonora and Milton stage on Funk Hill. He stepped out from behind a large boulder on the road side and ordered the driver to pull up. He then ordered the passengers out of the stage and the driver to hold the horses while he proceeded to blow open the iron safe, which was not locked. The giant powder exploded and blew to pieces a valise and sealskin satchel belonging to one of the lady passengers. He then removed the iron lid on the safe and remarked to the passengers that he had got nothing. The robber then directed the driver to hitch up his horses and drive ahead and not look back for five miles.

In France if a person buys a bicycle or a tricycle for business purposes it is not taxed. If he buys it for pleasure, a tax is imposed upon it. Of the latter kind there were 132,276 that paid the tax last year in France.

A Popular Comedian.

Charles A. Gardner, the popular German dialect comedian, will appear at the Opera House next Monday evening in an entirely new comedy drama entitled "The Prize Winner." The new play was written by Dr. E. A. Wood and James R. Carey of Pittsburg. It gives ample scope for the display of Mr. Gardner's talents and clever versatility, and during the progress of the piece he will sing seven new and popular songs, the music of which was composed by Gustave H. Kline. These songs are entitled "The Turner's Triumph," "The Hunter," "The Butterfly," "Wedding Bells," "Apple Blossoms," "Wand Drill" and the "Flower Girl." A Tyrolean sextette will sing the quaint songs of their native land. New scenery and handsome costumes have been provided, and there will be sensational stage effects, including a realistic avalanche scene. Seats now on sale.
